HE'S SOUND AS A GOLD DOLLAR

Evansville Man Eats, Sleeps and Works Better Than He Has in Years.

"I am convinced I would not be on the job today if it had not been for Tanlac," said Charles F. Zahn, 225 New York Ave., Evansville, Ind., employed by the Graham Glass Co.

"I was about 'all in' from indigestion and rheumatism, everything I ate soured on my stomach and I had a tight, stuffy feeling as if I were about to choke. All my joints were stiff and sore and I got so little rest I always felt miserable in the morning. For the first time that I can remember I am free from constipation; in fact, I am as sound as a gold dollar and brimful of energy, too. When it comes to building a man up and making him feel fine all the time, I'll tell the world Tanlac is in a class all by itself."

Tanlac is sold in South Bend by the Central Drug Store and leading druggists.

WHEN HELLER SAYS
IT'S OAK, IT'S OAK

BLACKSTONE

The murderer cursed the priest and threw the Bible that the good man had given him into the cell across the aisle, where it fell into the hands of Dan Malloy, train robber. Out of that book came the painting drawn by the hands of Malloy that sent the murderer to the gallows with a contrite heart, as you will learn when you see the beautiful masterpiece of the screen, "The Great Redeemer", which will have its final showings today.

It is this phase of the story which contains the biggest punch of all. H. Van Loan, who wrote "The Great Redeemer", got the idea for this situation from an incident that took place in a western jail. This is the first western picture which has ever been presented to theatergoers of South Bend at the Blackstone.

One of the cleverest comedies of the screen is "Blue Sunday", also being shown on the same program. The visualization of one of the best adventure stories written in the last decade is "The Beach of Dreams", which opens a two-day engagement tomorrow. It is a thrilling tale of how a woman found herself, when fate transported her from the shelter of Saigon to the grim confines of a lonely sea at mid-sea. How a terrible environment and a mortal fear taught her what love was—and the value of—friends is shown.

"Empty Arms", starring Gail Caine and supported by an all-star cast, is

INGROWN TOE NAIL

Turns Out Itself

A noted authority says that a few drops of "Outgro" upon the skin surrounding the ingrowing nail reduces inflammation and pain and so toughens the tender, sensitive skin underneath the toe nail, that it can not penetrate the flesh, and the nail turns naturally outward almost overnight.

"Outgro" is a harmless, antiseptic manufactured for chemists. However, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing directions.

AUDITORIUM

Robert McKim, the most hated of motion picture "villains" and Roy Stewart, the stalwart and romantic western hero, are the two male leads in Zane Grey's novel, "The U. P. Trail" which has its last showing today at the Auditorium. "The U. P. Trail" has about it the great human qualities of love and supreme sacrifice. The characters are all played with such virility that there is no such thing as neutral feeling toward them, each being strongly loved or hated as the case may be. Though laid in one of the most colorful epochs of American history, the story could have been enacted in any land at any time. Other members of the all star cast consist of Kathryn Williams, Joseph J. Dowling, and Marguerite De La Motte. "The Kid Pals" is a very clever comedy, which features Brownie the Century wonder dog and Town Topics concludes the days program.

LASALLE

"Who Am I?" is the feature being shown at the LaSalle today. Niles Welsh and Claire Anderson head the notable cast. Tomorrow the Tom Ince screen version of Louis Joseph Vance's "Beau Revel" is to be the offering. Florence Vidor, Lewis Stone and Lloyd Hughes are in this Paramount special.

CASTLE

Constance Talmadge in her most famous film success, "Up the Road with Sallie", is having its last showings in South Bend today at the Castle. Tomorrow, "Who Am I?"—the story of a girl gambler—is to be featured.
